From whence can a man satisfie these men with bread here in the wildernes? [5] And hee asked them, How many loaues haue ye? And they said, Seuen. [6] And he commanded the people to sit downe on the ground: and he tooke the seuen loaues, and gaue thanks, and brake, and gaue to his disciples to set before them: and they did set them before the people. [7] And they had a few small fishes: and hee blessed, and commanded to set them also before them. [8] So they did eate, and were filled: and they tooke vp, of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets. [9] And they that had eaten were about foure thousand, and he sent them away.

[10] And straightway he entred into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha. [11] And the Pharisees came foorth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, tempting him. [12] And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doeth this generation seeke after a signe? Uerely I say vnto you, There shall no signe be giuen vnto this generation. [13] And he left them, and entring into the ship againe, departed to the other side.

[14] Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more then one loafe. [15] And hee charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the leauen of Herode. [16] And they reasoned among themselues, saying, It is, because we haue no bread. [17] And when Iesus knew it, he saith vnto them, Why reason ye, because yee haue no bread? Perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? Haue ye your heart yet hardened? 46 Then they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his disciples, and a great nombre of people, Bartimæus the sonne of Timæus which was blynde, sate by the hye wayes syde beggyng.	46 And they come to Iericho: and vvhen he departed from Iericho, and his Disciples, and a very great multitude, the sonne of Timæus, Bar-timæus the blinde man, sate by the way side begging.	46 And they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his disciples, and a great number of people; blind Bartimeus, the son of Timeus, sate by the high wayes side, begging.
47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazaret, he began to cry and to say, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.	47 Vvho vvhen he had heard, that it is IESVS of Nazareth: he began to crie, and to say, IESVS, sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon me.	47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Iesus thou Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.
48 And many rebuked hym, to the ende that he should holde hys peace: but he cryed the more a great deale, Thou Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.	48 And many threatened him, to hold his peace. but he cried much more, Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon me.	48 And many charged him, that he should hold his peace: But he cried the more a great deale, Thou Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.
49 Then Iesus stode styl, and commanded hym to be called: and they called the blynde, saying vnto him, Be of good confort: ryse, he calleth thee.	49 And IESVS standing stil commaunded him to be called. And they call the blinde man, saying to him, Be of better comfort, arise, he calleth thee.	49 And Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they call the blind man, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, rise, he calleth thee.
50 And he threwe away his cloke, and rose and came to Iesus.	50 Vvho casting of his garment leapt vp, and came to him.	50 And hee casting away his garment, rose, and came to Iesus.
51 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto hym, What wilt thou that I do vnto thee? The blinde said vnto him, Master, that I might see.	51 And IESVS ansvvering, said to him, Vvhat vvilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blinde man said to him, Rabbôni, that I may see.	51 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, What wilt thou that I should doe vnto thee? The blinde man said vnto him, Lord, that I might receiue my sight.
52 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Go thy way, thy faith hath saued thee: and by and by, he receaued his sight, and folowed Iesus in the way.	52 And IESVS said to him, Goe thy vvaies, thy faith hath made the safe. And forthvvith he savv, and followed him in the vvay.	52 And Iesus said vnto him, Goe thy way, thy faith hath [a]made thee whole: And immediatly hee receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.
11. AND when they came nye to Ierusalem, to Bethphage and Bethanie, besydes the hil of Oliues, he sent forth two of his disciples,	11. AND vvhen they came nigh vnto Hierusalem and Bethania to Mount-oliuet, he sendeth tvvo of his Disciples,	11. AND when they came nigh to Hierusalem, vnto Bethphage, and Bethanie, at the mount of Oliues, hee sendeth foorth two of his disciples,
2 And sayd vnto them, Go your wayes into that village that is ouer agaynst you: and as sone as ye shal entre into it, ye shal fynde a colte bounde, wheron neuer man sate: lose him and bring him.	2 and saith to them, Goe into the tovvne that is against you, and immediatly entring in thither, you shal finde a colt tied, vpon vvhich no man yet hath sitten: loose him, and bring him.	2 And sayth vnto them, Goe your way into the village ouer against you, and assoone as ye bee entred into it, yee shall finde a colt tied, whereon neuer man sate, loose him, and bring him.
3 And if any man say vnto you, Why do ye so? Say that the Lord hath nede of hym: and strayght way he wil send hym hyther.	3 And if any man shal say to you, Vvat doe you? say that he is needeful for our Lord: and incontinent he vvil send him hither.	3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doe yee this? Say yee, that the Lord hath need of him: and straightway hee will send him hither.
4 And they went their way & found a colte tyed by the dore without, in a place wher two wayes met, and they losed him.	4 And going their vvaies, they found the colt tied before the gate vvithout in the meeting of tvvo vvaies: and they loose him.	4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met: and they loose him.
5 Then certaine of them that stode there, sayd vnto them, What do ye loosyng the colte?	5 And certaine of them that stoode there, said to them, Vvhat doe you loosing the colt?	5 And certaine of them that stood there, said vnto them, What doe ye loosing the colt?
6 And they sayd vnto them euen as Iesus had commanded them. And they let them go.	6 Vvho said to them as IESVS had commaunded them: and they did let him goe vvith them.	6 And they sayd vnto them euen as Iesus had commaunded: and they let them goe.
7 They broght therfore the colte to Iesus, and cast their garmentes on him: and he sate vpon him.	7 And they brought the colt to IESVS: and they lay their garments vpon	7 And they brought the colt

[54] And Peter followed him afarre off, euen into the pallace of the high Priest: and hee sate with the seruants, and warmed himselfe at the fire. [55] And the chiefe Priests, and all the counsel sought for witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death, and found none. [56] For many bare false witnesse against him, but their witnesse agreed not together. [57] And there arose certaine, and bare false witnesse against him, saying, [58] We heard him say, I will destroy this Temple that is made with hands, and within three dayes I wil build another made without hands. [59] But neither so did their witnesse agree together. [60] And the high Priest stood vp in the mids, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? What is it which these witnesse against thee? [61] But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Againe, the high Priest asked him, and said vnto him, Art thou the Christ, the Sonne of the Blessed? [62] And Iesus said, I am: and yee shall see the Sonne of man sitting on the right hand of power, and comming in the clouds of heauen. [63] Then the high Priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need wee any further witnesses? [64] Yee haue heard the blasphemy: what thinke yee? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death. [65] And some began to spit on him, and to couer his face, and to buffet him, and to say vnto him, Prophecie: And the seruants did strike him with the palmes of their hands.

[66] And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there commeth one of the maydes of the high Priest. [67] And when shee saw

[21] And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the countrey, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse. [22] And they broght hym to a place named Golgotha: which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens Sculles. [23] And they gaue hym to drinke wyne myngled with myrrhe, but he receaued it not.

[24] And when they had crucified him, they parted his garmentes, castyng lottes for them, what euery man should haue. [25] And it was about the thyrd houre, when they crucified him. [26] And the title of his cause was written, THE KYNG OF THE IEWES. [27] And they crucified with him two theues: the one on the ryght hand, and the other on his lyft. [28] Thus the Scripture was fulfylled, which sayeth, And he was counted among the wycked. [29] And they that went by, rayled on him, waggyng their heades, and saying, Hey, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, [30] Saue thy self, and

[14] And Pilate said to them, Vvhy, vvhat euil hath he done? But they cried the more, Crucifie him. [15] And Pilate vvilling to satisfie the people, released to them Barabbas, and deliuered IESVS, hauing vvhipped him, for to be crucified.

[16] And the souldiars led him into the court of the Palace, and they call together the vvhole band: [17] and they clothe him in purple, and platting a crovvne of thornes, they put it vpon him. [18] And they began to salute him, Haile King of the Ievves. [19] And they smote his head vvith a reede: and they did spit on him. and bovving the knees, they adored him. [20] And after they had mocked him, they stripped him of the purple, and put on him his ovvne garments, and they leade him forth to crucifie him. [21] And they forced a certaine man that passed by, Simon a Cyrenêan comming from the countrie, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to take vp his crosse. [22] And they bring him into the place Golgotha, vvhich being interpreted is, The place of Caluarie. [23] And they gaue him to drinke vvine mingled vvith myrrhe: and he tooke it not.

[24] And crucifying him, they deuided his garments, casting lottes vpon them, vvho should take vvhich. [25] And it vvas the third houre, and they crucified him. [26] And the title of his cause vvas superscribed, KING OF THE IEWES. [27] And vvith him they crucifie tvvo theeues: one on the right hand, and an other on his left. [28] And the Scripture vvas fulfilled that saith, And vvith the vvicked he vvas reputed. [29] And they that passed by, blasphemed him, vvagging their heades, and saying, Vah, he that destroieth the temple, and in three daies buildeth it: [30] saue thy self, comming

[14] Then Pilate saide vnto them, Why, what euill hath hee done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucifie him.

[15] And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered Iesus, when he had scourged him to be crucified. [16] And the souldiers led him away into the hal, called Pretorium, and they call together the whole band. [17] And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head, [18] And began to salute him, Haile King of the Iewes. [19] And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit vpon him, and bowing their knees, worshipped him. [20] And when they had mocked him, they tooke off the purple from him, and put his owne clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him. [21] And they compell one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, comming out of the countrey, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to beare his Crosse. [22] And they bring him vnto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, the place of a skull. [23] And they gaue him to drinke, wine mingled with myrrhe: but hee receiued it not. [24] And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lottes vpon them, what euery man should take. [25] And it was the third houre, and they crucified him. [26] And the superscription of his accusation was written ouer, THE KING OF THE IEWES. [27] And with him they crucifie two theeues, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. [28] And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And hee was numbred with the transgressours. [32] He shall be great, and shall be called the Sonne of the highest, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid. [33] And hee shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome there shall be no end. [34] Then said Mary vnto the Angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? [35] And the Angel answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the Highest shall ouershadow thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shalbe borne of thee, shall be called the Sonne of God. [36] And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her old age, and this is the sixt moneth with her, who was called barren. [37] For with God nothing shall be vnpossible. [38] And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it vnto mee according to thy word: and the Angel departed from her. [39] And Mary arose in those dayes, and went into the hill countrey with haste, into a citie of Iuda, [40] And entred into the house of Zacharias, & saluted Elizabeth. [41] And it came to passe that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Marie, the babe leaped in her wombe, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

[29] And rose vp, and thrust hym out of the citie, and led him euen vnto the edge of the hyl, wheron their citie was buylt, to cast hym downe hedlyng. [30] But he went his way euen through the myddes of them: [31] And came downe into Capernaum a citie of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes. [32] And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his preachyng was with autoritie. [33] And in the Synagoge there was a man which had a sprite of an vncleane deuyl, which cryed with a loud voyce, [34] Saying, Oh, what haue we to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazaret? art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, euen the Holy one of God. [35] And Iesus rebuked hym, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him. then the deuyl throwing him in the myddes of them, came out of him, and hurt him not. [36] And feare came on them all, and they spake among them selues, saying, What maner a thing is this? for with autoritie and power he commandeth the foule sprites, and they come out? [37] And the fame of hym spred abrode, through out all places of the countrey round about.

[38] And he rose vp, and came out of the Synagoge, and entred into Simons house. And Simons mother in law was taken with a great feuer, and they made intercession to him for her. [39] Then he stode ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her. and immediately she arose and ministred vnto them. [43] For there is no good tree that yeldeth euil fruites: nor euil tree, that yeldeth good fruite. [44] For euery tree is knovven by his fruite. For neither doe they gather figges of thornes: neither of a bush doe they gather the grape. [45] The good man of the good treasure of his hart bringeth forth good: and the euil man of the il treasure bringeth forth euil. for of the aboundance of the hart the mouth speaketh.

[46] And vvhy cal you me, Lord, Lord: and doe not the things vvhich I say?

[47] Euery one that commeth to me, and heareth my vvords, and doeth them: I vvill shevv you to vvhom he is like. [48] He is like to a man building a house, that digged deepe, and laid the foundation vpon a rocke. And vvhen an inundation rose, the riuer bette against that house, and it could not moue it: for it vvas founded vpon a rocke. [49] But he that heareth, and doeth not: is like to a man building his house vpon the earth vvithout a foundation: against the vvhich the riuer did beate: and incontinent it fell, and the ruine of that house vvas great.

7. AND vvhen he had fully said al his vvords into the eares of the people, he entred into Capharnaum. [2] And the seruant of a certaine Centurion being sicke, is not aboue his master: but euery one [a] that is perfect shalbe as his master. [41] And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? [42] Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let mee pull out the mote that is in thine eye: when thou thy selfe beholdest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beame out of thine owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye. [43] For a good tree bringeth not foorth corrupt fruit: neither doeth a corrupt tree bring foorth good fruit. [44] For euery tree is knowen by his owne fruit: for of thornes men doe not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. [45] A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth foorth that which is good: and an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart, bringeth foorth that which is euill: For of the abundance of the heart, his mouth speaketh.

[46] And why call ye mee Lord, Lord, and doe not the things which I say? [47] Whosoeuer commeth to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like. [48] Hee is like a man which built an house, and digged deepe, and layed the foundation on a rocke. And when the flood arose, the streame beat vehemently vpon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded vpon a rocke. [49] But hee that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house vpon the earth: against which the streame did beat vehemently, and immediatly it fell, and the ruine of that house was great.

7. NOW when hee had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entred into Capernaum. [2] And a certaine Centurions seruant, who was deare vnto choked it. [8] And other some fel vpon good ground: and being shot vp, yelded fruite an hundred fold Saying these things he cried, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

[9] And his disciples asked him vvhat this parable vvas. [10] To vvhom he said, To you it is giuen to knovv the mysterie of the kingdom of God, but to the rest in parables, that seeing they may not see, and hearing may not vnderstand. [11] And the parable is this: The seede, is the vvord of God. [12] And they besides the vvay: are those that heare, then the deuil commeth, and taketh the vvord out of their hart, lest beleeuing they be saued. [13] For they vpon the rocke: such as vvhen they heare, vvith ioy receiue the vvord: and these haue no rootes: because for a time they beleeue, and in time of tentation they reuolt. [14] And that vvhich fel into thornes, are they that haue heard, and going their vvaies, are choked vvith cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and render not fruite. [15] And that vpon good ground: are they vvhich in a good and very good hart, hearing the vvord, doe reteine it, and yeld fruite in patience.

[16] And no man lighting a candel doth couer it vvith a vessel, or put it under a bed: but setteth it vpon a candelsticke, that they that enter in, may see the light. [17] For there is not any thing secrete, that shal not be made manifest: nor hid, that shall not be knowen, & come abrode. [18] See therfore how you heare. For he that hath, to him shal be giuen: and vvhosoeuer hath not, that also vvhich he thinketh he hath, shal be taken avvay from him.

[19] And his mother and brethren came vnto him: and they could not come at him for the multitude. [20] And it vvas told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand vvithout, desirous to see thee. [21] Who ansvvering said to them, My mother and it, and choked it. [8] And other fell on good ground, and sprang vp, and bare fruite an hundred folde. And when hee sayd these things, he cried, Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare. [9] And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be? [10] And he said, Unto you it is giuen to know the mysteries of the kingdome of God: but to others in parables, that seeing, they might not see, and hearing, they might not vnderstand. [11] Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. [12] Those by the way side, are they that heare: then commeth the deuill, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should beleeue, and be saued. [13] They on the rocke, are they which when they heare, receiue the word with ioy; and these haue no roote, which for a while beleeue, and in time of temptation fall away. [14] And that which fell among thornes, are they, which when they haue heard, goe foorth, and are choked with cares and riches, and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruite to perfection. [15] But that on the good ground, are they, which in an honest and good heart hauing heard the word, keepe it, and bring foorth fruit with patience.

[16] No man when he hath lighted a candle, couereth it with a vessell, or putteth it vnder a bed: but setteth it on a candlesticke, that they which enter in, may see the light. [17] For nothing is secret, that shall not bee made manifest: neither any thing hid, that shal not be knowen, and come abroad. [18] Take heede therefore how yee heare: for whosoeuer hath, to him shall bee giuen; and whosoeuer hath not, from him shall be taken, euen which he[a] seemeth to haue.

suffered them. [33] Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the herd ranne violently downe a steepe place into the lake, and were choked. [34] When they that fedde them saw what was done, they fled, and went, and tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey. [35] Then they went out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, sitting at the feet of Iesus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid. [36] They also which saw it, told them by what meanes he that was possessed of the deuils was healed.

[37] Then the whole multitude of the countrey of the Gadarenes round about, besought him to depart from them, for they were taken with great feare: and he went vp into the ship, and returned backe againe. [38] Now the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying, [39] Returne to thine owne house, and shew how great things God hath done vnto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole citie how great things Iesus had done vnto him. [40] And it came to passe, that when Iesus was returned, the people gladly receiued him: for they were all waiting for him.

[41] And behold, there came a man named Iairus, and he was a ruler of the Synagogue, and hee fell downe at Iesus feet, and besought him that hee would come into his house: [42] For hee had one onely daughter about twelue yeeres of age, and she lay a dying. (But as hee went the people thronged him.

[43] And a woman hauing an issue of blood twelue yeres, which had spent all her liuing vpon Phisitions, neither could be healed of any, [44] Came behinde him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediatly her issue of blood stanched. [45] And Iesus said, Who touched mee?

[33] No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither vnder a bushell, but on a candlesticke, that they which come in may see the light. [34] The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light: but when thine eye is euill, thy body also is full of darkenesse. [35] Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darknesse. [36] If thy whole body therefore bee full of light, hauing no part darke, the whole shalbe full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doeth giue thee light.

the Synagogues, and vnto Magistrates, and powers, take yee no thought how or what thing ye shal answere, or what ye shall say: [12] For the holy Ghost shal teach you in the same houre, what ye ought to say.

[13] And one of the company said vnto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he diuide the inheritance with me. [14] And he said vnto him, Man, who made mee a Iudge, or a diuider ouer you? [15] And he said vnto them, Take heed and beware of couetousnes: for a mans life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. [16] And hee spake a parable vnto them, saying, The ground of a certaine rich man brought foorth plentifully. [17] And he thought within himselfe, saying, What shall I doe, because I haue no roome where to bestow my fruits? [18] And he said, This will I doe, I will pull downe my barnes, and build greater, and there will I bestow all my fruits, and my goods. [19] And I wil say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods layd vp for many yeeres, take thine ease, eate, drinke, and be merrie. [20] But God said vnto him, Thou foole, this night [a] thy soule shalbe required of thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast prouided? [21] So is he that layeth vp treasure for himselfe, and is not rich towards God.

[22] And he said vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, Take no thought for your life what yee shall eate, neither for the body what ye shall put on. [23] The life is more then meate, and the body is more then raiment. [24] Consider the rauens, for they neither sow nor reape, which neither haue storehouse nor barne, and God feedeth them: How much more are ye better then the foules? [25] And which of you with taking thought can adde to his stature one cubite? [26] If ye then be not able to doe that thing which is least, why take yee thought for the rest? [27] Consider the Lillies how they grow, they vnto vs, or to all men? [42] And the Lord sayd, Who is a faythful steward, and wyse, whome the master shal make ruler ouer his houshould, to geue them their duetie of meat at due season? [43] Happy is that seruant, whome his master when he commeth, shal finde so doyng. [44] Of a truth I say vnto you, that he wyl make hym ruler ouer all that he hath.

[45] But if that seruant say in his hart, My master sloweth his commyng, and so shal begyn to smyte the seruantes, and maydens, and to eat, and dryncke, and to be droncken: [46] The master of that seruant wyl come in a day when he thinketh not, and at an houre when he is not ware, and wyl separate hym, and geue hym his rewarde with the vnbeleuers. [47] That seruant that knewe his masters wyl, and prepared not hym self, nether dyd accordyng to his wyl, shalbe beaten with many strypes [48] But he that knewe not, and yet dyd commyt thinges worthy of strypes, shalbe beaten with fewe strypes. For vnto whome muche is geuen, of him shalbe muche required: and to whome men muche commit, the more of hym wyl they aske. [49] I am come to put fyre on the earth: and what is my desire, if it be al ready kyndled? [50] Notwitstandyng I must be baptized with a baptisme, and how am I grieued tyl it be ended? [51] Suppose ye that I am come to geue peace on earth? I tel you nay, but rather debate.

[52] For from hence forth ther shalbe fyue in one house deuided, thre agaynst two, and two agaynst thre, [53] The father shalbe deuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother agaynst the daughter, and the daughter agaynst the mother: the mother in lawe agaynst the daughter in lawe, and the daughter in lawe, agaynst the mother in lawe. [43] Blessed is that seruant, vvhom vvhen the lord commeth, he shal finde so doing. [44] Verely I say to you, that ouer al things vvhich he possesseth, he shal appoint him. [45] But if that seruant say in his hart, My lord is long a comming: and shal begin to strike the seruants and handmaides, and eate and drinke, and be drunke: [46] the lord of that seruant shal come in a day that he hopeth not, and at an houre that he knovveth not, and shal deuide him, and shal appoint his portion vvith the infidels.

[47] And that seruant that knevv the vvil of his lord, and prepared not him self, and did not according to his vvil: shal be beaten vvith many stripes. [51] Thinke you that I came to giue peace on the earth? No, I tel you, but separation. [52] For there shal be from this time, fiue in one house deuided: three against tvvo, and tvvo against three. [53] There shal be deuided, the father against the sonne, and the sonne against his father, the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother, the mother in lavv against her daughter in lavv, and the daughter in lavv against her mother in lavv.

to all? [42] And the Lord said, Who then is that faithfull and wise steward, whom his Lord shall make ruler ouer his household, to giue them their portion of meat in due season? [43] Blessed is that seruant, whom his Lord when he commeth, shall finde so doing. [44] Of a trueth, I say vnto you, that hee will make him ruler ouer all that he hath. [45] But and if that seruant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his comming; and shall begin to beat the men seruants, and maydens, and to eat and drinke, and to be drunken: [46] The Lord of that seruant will come in a day when hee looketh not for him, and at an houre when hee is not ware, and will [α] cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the vnbeleeuers. [47] And that seruant which knew his Lords will, and prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his will, shalbe beaten with many stripes. [48] But hee that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For vnto whomsoeuer much is giuen, of him shall bee much required: and to whom men haue committed much, of him they will aske the more.

[49] I am come to send fire on the earth, and what will I, if it be already kindled? [50] But I haue a baptisme to be baptized with, and how am I [β] straitned till it be accomplished? [51] Suppose yee that I am come to giue peace on earth? I tell you, Nay, but rather diuision. when she hath found it, shee calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Reioyce with me, for I haue found the piece which I had lost. [10] Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence in the Angels of God, ouer one sinner that repenteth.

[11] And hee said, A certaine man had two sonnes: [12] And the yonger of them said to his father, Father, giue me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he diuided vnto them his liuing. [13] And not many dayes after, the yonger sonne gathered all together, and took his iourney into a farre countrey, and there wasted his substance with riotous liuing. [14] And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land, and he began to be in want. [15] And he went and ioyned himselfe to a citizen of that countrey, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. [16] And he would faine haue filled his belly with the huskes that the swine did eate: and no man gaue vnto him. [17] And when hee came to himselfe, hee said, How many hired seruants of my fathers haue bread ynough and to spare, and I perish with hunger? [18] I will arise and goe to my father, and will say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen and before thee. [19] And am no more worthy to bee called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants. [20] And he arose and came to his father. But when hee was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ranne, and fell on his necke, and kissed him. [21] And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne. 27 And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him. 28 But Iesus turning vnto them, said, Daughters of Hierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, and for your children. 29 For behold, the dayes are comming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that neuer bare, and the paps which neuer gaue sucke. 30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountaines, Fall on vs, and to the hilles, Couer vs. 31 For if they doe these things in a green tree, what shalbe done in the drie? 32 And there were also two other malefactors led with him, to bee put to death. 33 And when they were come to the place which is called [β]Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.
34 Then said Iesus, Father, forgiue them, for they know not what they doe: And they parted his raiment, and cast lots. 35 And the people stood beholding, and the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saued others, let him saue himselfe, if he be Christ, the chosen of God. 36 And the souldiers also mocked him, comming to him, and offering him vineger, 37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Iewes, saue thy selfe. 38 And a superscription also was written ouer him in letters of Greeke, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

[31] And their eies vvere opened, and they knevv him: and he vanished out of their sight. [32] And they said one to the other, Vvas not our hart burning in vs, vvhiles he spake in the vvay, and opened vnto vs the scriptures? [33] And rising vp the same houre they vvent backe into Hierusalem: and they found the eleuen gathered together, and those that vvere vvith them, [34] saying, That our Lord is risen in deede, and hath appeared to Simon. [35] And they told the things that vvere done in the vvay: and hovv they knevv him in the breaking of bread.	at meate with them, he tooke bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gaue to them. [31] And their eyes were opened, and they knew him, and he [a] vanished out of their sight. [32] And they said one to another, Did not our heart burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way, and while hee opened to vs the Scriptures? [33] And they rose vp the same houre, and returned to Hierusalem, and found the eleuen gathered together, and them that were with them, [34] Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon. [35] And they told what things were done in the way, and how hee was knowen of them in breaking of bread.
[34] Which sayd, The Lord is rysen in dede, and hath appeared to Simon. [35] Then they tolde what thyngs were done in the way: and how they knew hym in breaking of bread. [36] As they thus spake, Iesus hym self stode in the myddes of them, and sayd vnto them, Peace be with you. [37] And they were abashed and afrayd, supposing that they had sene a sprite. [38] Then he sayd vnto them, Why are ye troubled, and why do doutes aryse in your hartes?	[36] And vvhiles they speake these things, IESVS stoode in the middes of them, and he saith to them, Peace be to you: it is I. feare not. [37] But they being troubled and frighted, imagined that they savv a spirit. [38] And he said to them, Vvhy are you troubled, and cogitations arise into your harts? [39] See my handes, and feete, that it is I my self. handle, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as you see me to have. [40] And vvhen he had said this, he shevved them his handes and feete. [41] But they yet not beleeuing and marueiling for ioy, he said, Haue you here any thing to be eaten? [42] But they offred him a peece of fish broiled, and a honie combe. [43] And vvhen he had eaten before them, taking the remaines he gaue to them.	[36] And as they thus spake, Iesus himselfe stood in the midst of them, and sayth vnto them, Peace bee vnto you. [37] But they were terrified, and afrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit [38] And he said vnto them, Why are yee troubled, and why doe thoughts arise in your hearts? [39] Behold my hands and my feete, that it is I my selfe: handle me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me haue. [40] And when he had thus spoken, hee shewed them his handes and his feete. [41] And while they yet beleeued not for ioy, and wondered, hee saide vnto them, Haue ye here any meat? [42] And they gaue him a piece of a broyled fish, and of an hony combe. [43] And he tooke it, and did eate before them.
[39] Beholde my handes and my fete: for it is euen I my self: handle me, and se: for a sprite hath not fleshe and bones, as ye se me haue. [40] And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his handes and his fete. [41] And whyle they yet beleued not for ioye, and wondred, he sayd vnto them, Haue ye here any meat? [42] And they gaue him a piece of a broyled fyshe, and of an hony combe. [43] And he toke it, and dyd eat before them. [44] And he sayd vnto them, These are the wordes which I spake vnto you whyle I was yet with you: That all must be fulfylled which are written of me in the lawe of Moses, and in the Prophetes, and in the Psalmes.	[44] And he said to them, These are the vvordes vvhich I spake to you, vvhen I vvas yet vvith you, that al things must needes be fulfilled, vvhich are vvritten in the lavv of Moyses, and the Prophets, and the Psalmes, of me.	[44] And he said vnto them, These are the words which I spake vnto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes concerning me.
[45] Then opened he their wyttes, that they myght vnderstande the Scriptures. [46] And sayd vnto them, Thus it is written and thus it behoued Christ to suffre, and to ryse agayne from death the third day:	[45] Then he opened their vnderstanding, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures. [46] and he said to them, That so it is vvritten, and so it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from the dead the third day:	[45] Then opened he their vnderstanding, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures, [46] And said vnto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

13 And the Iewes Passeouer was at hand, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem, 14 And found in the Temple those that sold oxen, and sheepe, and doues, and the changers of money, sitting. 15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he droue them all out of the Temple, and the sheepe and the oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrew the tables, 16 And said vnto them that sold doues, Take these things hence, make not my fathers house an house of merchandize. 17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, The zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

18 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, What signe shewest thou vnto vs, seeing that thou doest these things? 19 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Destroy this Temple, and in three dayes I will raise it vp. 20 Then said the Iewes, Fourty and six yeres was this Temple in building, and wilt thou reare it vp in three daies? 21 But hee spake of the Temple of his body. 22 When therefore hee was risen from the dead, his disciples remembred that hee had said this vnto them: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the word which Iesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Hierusalem at the Passeouer, in the feast day, many beleeued in his Name, when they saw the miracles which he did. 24 But Iesus did vvhich beleeueth in him, perish not, but may haue life euerlasting. [16] For so God loued the vvorld, that he gaue his only-begotten sonne: that euery one that beleeueth in him, perish not, but may haue life euerlasting. [17] For God sent not his sonne into the vvorld, to iudge the vvorld, but that the vvorld may be saued by him. [18] He that beleeueth in him, is not iudged. but he that doeth not beleeue, is already iudged: because he hath not beleeued in the name of the only-begotten sonne of God.

[19] And this is the iudgment: because the light is come into the vvorld, and men haue loued the darkenesse rather then the light: for their vvorkes vvere euil. [20] For euery one that doeth il, hateth the light, and commeth not to the light, that his vvorkes may not be controuled. [21] But he that doeth veritie, commeth to the light, that his vvorkes may be made manifest, because they vvere done in God.

[22] After these thinges IESVS came and his Disciples into the countrie of Ievvrie: and there he abode vvith them, and baptized. [23] And Iohn also vvas baptizing in Ænon beside Salim: because there vvas much vvater there, and they came, and vvere baptized. [24] For Iohn vvas not yet cast into prison. [25] And there rose a question of Iohns disciples vvith the Ievves concerning purification. [26] And they came to Iohn, and said to him, Rabbi, he that vvas vvith thee beyond Iordan, to vvhom thou didst giue testimonie, behold he baptizeth, and al come to him. [27] Iohn ansvvered and said, A man can not receiue any thing, vnlesse it be giuen him from heauen. [28] Your selues doe beare me vvitnesse, that I said, I am not CHRIST: but that I am sent before him. beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

[16] For God so loued the world, that he gaue his only begotten Sonne: that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life. [17] For God sent not his Sonne into the world to condemne the world: but that the world through him might be saued.

[18] He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned already, because he hath not beleeued in the Name of the onely begotten Sonne of God. [19] And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loued darknesse rather then light, because their deedes were euill. [20] For euery one that doeth euil, hateth the light, neither commeth to the light, lest his deeds should be [α] reproued. [21] But hee that doeth trueth, commeth to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

[22] After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iudea, and there hee taried with them, and baptized.

[23] And Iohn also was baptizing in Aenon, neere to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. [24] For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

[25] Then there arose a question betweene some of Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying. [26] And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordane, to whom thou barest witnesse, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. [27] Iohn answered, and said, A man can [β] receiue nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen. [28] Ye your selues beare me witnesse, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. [29] He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegrome, which standeth and

Father, saue he which is of God, the same hath sene the Father. 47 Verely verely I say vnto you, He that beleueth on me, hath euerlasting lyfe. 48 I am that bread of lyfe. 49 Your fathers dyd eat Manna in the wyldernes, and are dead. 50 This is that bread which commeth downe from heauen, that he which eateth of it, should not dye. 51 I am that liuyng bread which came downe from heauen: If any man eat of this bread, he shal liue for euer: and the bread that I wyl geue, is my fleshe, which I wyl geue for the lyfe of the world.

52 Then the Iewes stroue among them selues, saying, How can this felow geue vs his fleshe to eat? 53 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely verely I say vnto you, Except ye eat the fleshe of the Sonne of man, and dryncke his bloud, ye haue no lyfe in you. 54 Whosoeuer eateth my fleshe, and drincketh my bloud, hath eternal lyfe: and I wyl rayse him vp at the last day.

The wordes that I speake vnto you, are sprete and lyfe. [64] But ther are some of you that beleve not. For Iesus knewe from the begynnynge, which they were that beleved not, and who shuld betraye him. [65] And he sayde: Therfore sayde I vnto you: that no man can come vnto me, except it were geven vnto him of my father.

[66] From that tyme many of his disciples went backe, and walked no moore with him. [67] Then sayde Iesus to the twelve: will ye alsoo goo awaye? [68] Then Simon Peter answered: Master to whom shall we goo? Thou haste the wordes of eternall lyfe, [69] and we beleve and knowe, that thou arte Christ the sonne of the lyvinge God. [70] Iesus answered them: Have not I chosen you twelve, and yet one of you is the devyll? [71] He spake it of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon. For he it was that shuld betraye him, and was one of the twelve.

7. AFTER that, Iesus went about in Galile and wolde not go about in Iewry, for the Iewes sought to kill him. [2] The Iewes tabernacle feast was at honde. [3] His brethren therfore sayde vnto him: get the hence and go into Iewry that thy disciples maye se thy workes that thou doest. Thou hast the words of eternall life. 69 And we beleeue and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God. 70 Iesus answered them, Haue not I chosen you twelue, and one of you is a deuill? 71 He spake of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for hee it was that should betray him, being one of the twelue.
7. AFTER that, Iesus went about in Galile: and wolde not abyde in Iewrie, for the Iewes soght to kyl hym. 2 The Iewes Tabernacle feast was at hand. 3 His brethren therfore sayd vnto hym, Get thee hence and go into Iewrie, that thy disciples may se thy workes that thou doest. 4 For ther is no man that doeth any thing secretly, and he hym selfe seketh to be knowen openly. [12] Then spake Iesus agayne vnto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that foloweth me, shal not walke in darcknes, but shal haue the lyght of lyfe. [13] The Phariseis therfore sayd vnto him, Thou bearest recorde of thy selfe, thy recorde is not true.

[14] Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Thogh I beare recorde of my selfe, yet my recorde is true: for I knowe whence I came, and whether I go: but ye can not tel whence I come, and whether I go. [15] Ye iudge after the fleshe, I iudge no man. [16] And if I iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. [17] It is also wrytten in your lawe, That the testimonie of two men is true. [18] I am one that beare wytnes of my selfe, and the Father that sent me, beareth witnes of me. [19] Then sayd they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye nether know me, nor yet my Father: If ye had knowen me, ye should haue knowen my Father also.

[20] These wordes spake Iesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple, and no man layd handes on hym: for his houre was not yet come. [21] Then sayd Iesus agayne vnto them, I go my way, and ye shal seke me, and shal dye in your sinnes. Whether I go, thether can ye not come. [22] Then sayd the Iewes, Wil he kil him stouped downe, and wrote on the ground. [9] And they which heard it, being conuicted by their owne conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. [10] When Iesus had lift vp himselfe, and saw none but the woman, hee said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? Hath no man condemned thee? [11] She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus saide vnto her, Neither doe I condemne thee: Goe, and sinne no more.

[12] Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the light of life. [13] The Pharisees therefore said vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe, thy record is not true. [14] Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I goe: but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I goe. [15] Yee iudge after the flesh, I iudge no man. [16] And yet if I iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. [17] It is also written in your Law, that the testimonie of two men is true. [18] I am one that beare witnesse of my selfe, and the Father that sent mee, beareth witnesse of me.

[19] Then said they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had knowen mee, ye should haue knowen my Father also.

[32] From the beginning of the vvorld it hath not been heard that any man hath opened the eies of one borne blinde. [33] Vnles this man vvere of God, he could not doe any thing. [34] They ansvvered, and said to him, Thou vvast vvholy borne in sinnes, and doest thou teach vs? And they did cast him forth.

[35] IESVS heard that they cast him forth: and vvhen he had found him, he said to him, Doest thou beleeue in the sonne of God? [36] He ansvvered, and said, Vvho is he Lord, that I may beleeue in him? [37] And IESVS said to him, Both thou hast seen him: and he that talketh vvith thee, he it is. [38] But he said, I beleeue Lord. And falling dovvne he adored him. [39] And IESVS said to him, For iudgement came I into this vvorld: that they that see not, may see: and they that see, may become blinde. [40] And certaine of the Pharisees that vvere vvith him, heard: and they said be put out of the Synagogue. [23] Therefore said his parents, He is of age, aske him.

[24] Then againe called they the man that was blind, and said vnto him, Giue God the praise, we know that this man is a sinner. [25] He answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: One thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see. [26] Then said they to him againe, What did he to thee? How opened hee thine eyes? [27] He answered them, I haue told you already, and ye did not heare: wherefore would you heare it againe? Will ye also be his disciples? [28] Then they reuiled him, and said, Thou art his disciple, but we are Moses disciples. [29] Wee know that God spake vnto Moses: as for this fellow, wee knowe not from whence he is. [30] The man answered, and said vnto them, Why herein is a marueilous thing, that yee know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes. [31] Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man bee a worshipper of God, and doth his will, him he heareth. [32] Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde: [33] If this man were not of God, he could doe nothing.

[34] They answered, and said vnto him, Thou wast altogether borne in sinnes, and doest thou teach vs? And they [a] cast him out. [35] Iesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said vnto him, Doest thou beleeue on the Sonne of God? [36] He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleeue on him? [37] And Iesus said vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee. [38] And he said, Lord, I beleeue: and he worshipped him.

[39] And Iesus said, For iudgement I am come into this world, that they which see not, might see, and that they which see, might be made blinde. [40] And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard and know myne, and am knowen of myne. 15 As my Father knoweth me: euen so know I my Father: and I geue my lyfe for the shepe. 16 Other shepe I haue also which are not of this folde: them also must I bring, and they shal heare my voyce: and ther shal be one shepefolde, and one shepeherde. 17 Therfore doth my Father loue me, because I put my lyfe from me, that I myght take it agayne. 18 No man taketh it from me, but I put it away of my selfe: I haue power to put it from me, and haue power to take it againe: this commandement haue I receaued of my Father. 19 Then ther was a dissention agayne among the Iewes for these sayinges: 20 And many of them sayd, He hath the deuyl, and is madde: why heare ye him? 21 Other sayd, These are not the wordes of him that hath the deuyl: Can the deuyl open the eyes of the blynde? 22 And it was at Ierusalem the feast of the Dedication, and it was wynter. 23 And Iesus walked in the temple, in Solomons porche. 24 Then came the Iewes rounde about hym, and sayd vnto him, How longe doest thou make vs doute? If thou be the Christe, tel vs playnly. 25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, and ye beleue not: the workes that I do in my Fathers name, they beare wytnes of me. 26 But ye beleue not: for ye are not of my shepe, as I sayd vnto you: 27 My shepe heare my voyce, and I knowe them, and they folow me: 28 And I geue vnto them eternal lyfe, and they shal neuer perishe, nether shal any man plucke them out of my hand. 29 My Father which gaue them me, is greater then all: and no man is able to take them out of my Fathers hand. 30 And I and my Father are one. 31 Then the Iewes agayne toke vp stones, to stone hym with all. 32 Iesus answered them,	mine knovv me. 15 As the Father knovveth me, and I knovv the Father: and I yeld my life for my sheepe. 16 And other sheepe I haue that are not of this folde: them also I must bring, and they shal heare my voice, and there shal be made one folde and one Pastor. 17 Therfore the Father loueth me: because I yeld my life, that I may take it againe. 18 No man taketh it avvay from me: but I yeld it of my self. and I haue povver to yeld it: and I haue povver to take it againe. This commaundement I receiued of my father. 19 A dissension rose againe among the Ievves for these vvordes. 20 And many of them said, He hath a deuil and is mad: vvhy heare you him? 21 Others said, These are not the vvordes of one that hath a deuil. can a deuil open the eies of blinde men? 22 And the Dedication vvas in Hierusalem: and it vvas vvinter. 23 And IESVS vvalked in the temple, in Salomons porche. 24 The Ievves therfore compassed him round about, and said to him, Hovv long doest thou hold our soule in suspense? if thou be CHRIST, tel vs openly. 25 IESVS answered them, I speake to you: and you beleeue not. the vvorkes that I doe in the name of my Father, they giue testimonie of me. 26 but you doe not beleeue, because you are not of my sheepe. 27 My sheepe heare my voice: and I knovv them, and they followv me. 28 And I giue them life euerlasting: and they shal not perish for euer, and no man shal plucke them out of my hand. 29 My Father, that vvhich he hath giuen me, is greater then al: and no man can plucke them out of the hand of my father. 30 I and the Father are one. 31 The Ievves tooke vp stones, to stone him. 32 IESVS ansvvered them, Many good	know my sheepe, and am knowen of mine. 15 As the Father knoweth me, euen so know I the Father: and I lay downe my life for the sheepe. 16 And other sheepe I haue, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall heare my voyce; and there shall be one fold, and one shepheard. 17 Therefore doeth my Father loue me, because I lay downe my life that I might take it againe. 18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it downe of my selfe: I haue power to lay it downe, and I haue power to take it againe. This commandement haue I receiued of my Father. 19 There was a diuision therefore againe among the Iewes for these sayings. 20 And many of them said, He hath a deuill, and is mad, why heare ye him? 21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a deuill. Can a deuill open the eyes of the blind? 22 And it was at Hierusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter. 23 And Iesus walked in the temple in Solomons porch. 24 Then came the Iewes round about him, and said vnto him, How long doest thou [a] make vs to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell vs plainly. 25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, and ye beleeued not: the works that I doe in my Fathers Name, they beare witnes of me. 26 But ye beleeue not, because ye are not of my sheepe, as I said vnto you. 27 My sheep heare my voyce, and I know them, and they follow me. 28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perish, neither shall any man plucke them out of my hand. 29 My Father which gaue them me, is greater then all: and no man is able to pluck them out of my Fathers hand. 30 I and my Father are one. 31 Then the Iewes tooke vp stones againe to stone him. 32 Iesus answered them, Many good

IESVS therfore sixe daies before the Pasche came to Bethánia, vvhere Lazarus vvas, that had been dead, vvhom IESVS raised. 2 And they made him a supper there: and Martha ministred, but Lazarus vvas one of them that sate at the table vvith him. 3 Marie therfore tooke a povvnd of ointement of right spikenard, pretious, and anointed the feete of IESVS, and vviped his feete vvith her heare: and the house vvas filled of the odour of the ointment. 4 One therfore of his disciples, Iudas Iscariote, he that vvas to betray him, said, 5 Vvhy vvas not this ointment sold for three-hundred pence, and giuen to the poore? 6 And he said this, not because he cared for the poore: but because he vvas a theefe, and hauing the purse, caried the things that vvere put in. 7 IESVS therfore said, Let her alone that she may keepe it for the day of my burial. 8 For the poore you haue alvvaies vvith you: but me you shal not haue alvvaies.	12. THEN Iesus, sixe dayes before the Passouer, came to Bethanie, where Lazarus was, which had bene dead, whom hee raised from the dead. 2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him. 3 Then tooke Mary a pound of ointment, of Spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Iesus, and wiped his feet with her haire: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. 4 Then saith one of his disciples, Iudas Iscariot, Simons son, which should betray him, 5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore? 6 This hee said, not that he cared for the poore: but because hee was a thiefe, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein. 7 Then said Iesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this. 8 For the poore alwayes yee haue with you: but me ye haue not alwayes.
9 Muche people of the Iewes had knowledge that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake only, but that they might se Lazarus also, whome he raysed from death. 10 The hye Priestes therfore consulted that they myght put Lazarus to death also. 11 Because that for his sake, many of the Iewes went away, and beleued on Iesus. 12 On the morow, much people that were come to the feast when they heard that Iesus should come to Ierusalem, 13 Toke branches of palme trees, and went forth to mete him, and cryed,	9 A great multitude therfore of the Ievves knevv that he vvas there: and they came, not for IESVS only, but that they might see Lazarus, vvhom he raised from the dead. 10 But the cheefe Priests deuised for to kil Lazarus also: 11 because many for him of the Ievves vvent avvay, and beleeued in IESVS. 12 And on the morovv a great multitude that vvas come to the festiual day, vvhen they had heard that IESVS commeth to Hierusalem: 13 they tooke the boughes of palmes, and vvent forth to meete him,	9 Much people of the Iewes therefore knew that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. 10 But the chiefe Priests consulted, that they might put Lazarus also to death, 11 Because that by reason of him many of the Iewes went away and beleeued on Iesus. 12 On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus was comming to Hierusalem, 13 Tooke branches of Palme trees, and went foorth to meet him, and cried, [28] Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saing, I haue both glorified it, and wyl glorifie it agayne. [29] Then sayd the people that stode by and heard, It thundreth: other sayd, An Angel spake to hym. [30] Iesus answered, and sayd, This voyce, came not because of me, but for your sakes.

[31] Now is the iudgement of this world, now shal the prince of this worlde be cast out. [32] And I if I were lift vp from the earth wyl drawe all men vnto me. [33] This sayd Iesus, signifiyng what death he should dye. [34] The people answered hym, We haue heard out of the lawe, that Christe bydeth euer: and how sayest thou, That the Sonne of man must be lyft vp? who is that Sonne of man? [35] Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Yet a lytel whyle is the Lyght with you: walke whyle ye haue Lyght, lest the darkenes come on you, for he that walketh in the darke, wotteth not whither he goeth.

[36] While ye haue Lyght, beleue on the Lyght, that ye may be the children of the Lyght. These thinges spake Iesus, and departed, and hyd hym selfe from them. [37] And thogh he had done so many miracles before them, yet beleued they not on hym. [38] That the saying of Esai the Prophet myght be fulfilled, that he spake, Lord who beleued our saying? And to whom is the arme of the Lord opened? [39] Therfore could they not beleue, because that Esai sayth agayne, [40] He hath blinded theyr eyes, and hardened theyr harts, that they should not se with theyr eyes, and vnderstand with theyr hartes, and shuld be conuerted, and I should heale them. [41] Suche thinges sayd Esai, when he saw his glorie, and spake of him. [23] Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Yf a man loue me, he wil kepe my sayinges: and my Father wil loue him, and we wil come vnto hym, and wil dwel with him. [24] He that loueth me not, kepeth not my sayinges: and the wordes which ye heare, are not myne, but the Fathers which sent me.	[20] In that day you shal knovv that I am in my father, and you in me, and I in you. [21] He that hath my commaundements, and keepeth them: he it is that loueth me. And he that loueth me, shal be loued of my father: and I vvil loue him, and vvil manifest my self to him. [22] Iudas saith to him, not that Iscariote, Lord, vvhat is done, that thou vvilt manifest thy self to vs, and not to the vvorld? [23] Iesvs ansvvered, and said to him, If any loue me, he vvil keepe my vvord, and my father vvil loue him, and vve vvil come to him, and vvil make abode vvith him. [24] He that loueth me not, keepeth not my vvordes. And the vvord vvhich you haue heard, is not mine: but his that sent me, the Fathers.	[21] He that hath my commandements, and keepeth them, hee it is that loueth me: and he that loueth me shall be loued of my Father, and I wil loue him, and will manifest my selfe to him. [22] Iudas saith vnto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the world? [23] Iesus answered, and said vnto him, If a man loue me, he will keepe my wordes: and my Father will loue him, and wee will come vnto him, and make our abode with him. [24] He that loueth mee not, keepeth not my sayings, and the word which you heare, is not mine, but the Fathers which sent mee.
[25] These haue I spoken vnto you, beyng yet present with you. [26] But that Comforter, which is the holy Gost, whom my Father wil send in my name, he shal teache you al thynges, and bring all thinges to your remembrance, what so euer I haue tolde you.	[25] These things haue I spoken to you, abiding vvith you. [26] But the Paraclete the holy Ghost, vvhom the Father vvil send in my name, he shal teach you al things, and suggest vnto you al things vvhatsoeuer I shal say to you.	[25] These things haue I spoken vnto you, being yet present with you. [26] But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whom the Father wil send in my Name, hee shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoeuer I haue said vnto you.
[27] Peace I leue with you, my peace I geue vnto you: not as the world geueth, geue I vnto you: let not youre hartes be troubled, nether feare ye. [28] Ye haue heard how I sayd vnto you, I go, and wil come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye wold verely reioyce, because I said, I go vnto my Father: for my Father is greater then I. [29] And now haue I shewed you, before it come: that when it is come to passe, ye myght beleue. [30] Here after wyl I not talke many wordes vnto you: for the prince of thys world commeth, and hath noght in me. [31] But that the world may knowe that I loue my Father: therfore as the	[27] Peace I leaue to you, my peace I giue to you. not as the vvorld giueth, doe I giue to you. Let not your hart be troubled, nor feare. [28] You haue heard that I said to you, I goe and I come to you. If you loued me, you vvould be glad verily, that I goe to the Father: because the Father is greater then I. [29] And novv I haue told you before it come to passe: that vvhen it shal come to passe, you may beleeue. [30] Novv I vvil not speake many things vvith you. for the prince of this vvorld commeth, and in me he hath not any thing. [31] But that the vvorld may knovv that I loue the Father: and as the Father has giuen me	[27] Peace I leaue with you, my peace I giue vnto you, not as the world giueth, giue I vnto you: let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. [28] Yee haue heard how I said vnto you, I goe away, and come againe vnto you. If yee loued me, ye would reioyce, because I said, I goe vnto the Father: for my Father is greater then I. [29] And now I haue told you before it come to passe, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue. [30] Hereafter I will not talke much with you: for the prince of this world commeth, and hath nothing in me. [31] But that the world may knowe that I loue the Father: and as the Father gaue mee
